Why You’ll Love It

UNFORGETTABLE FLAVOR

Nothing creates flavor like smoke and time. You’ll have to be patient, but the payoff is huge.

PLENTY TO EAT

Smoking requires big cuts like this 12 lb. brisket. Whether you’re serving a crowd or stocking up for the week, there will be barbeque to spare.

FUN & EXPERIMENTATION

It’s the ultimate customizable cooking technique – become the master of your own special recipe.

THERE’S NO HOBBY LIKE IT

Barbeque is not just a technique, it’s a lifestyle. Get into smoking meats with Omaha Steaks and never go hungry again.

RECOMMENDED SMOKERS

Temperature consistency is the key, no matter what fuel you use. These are our favorite ways to stay cool.

How We Made That Beautiful Brisket

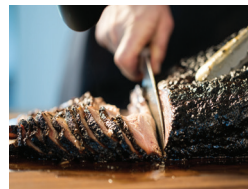

1 wash with vinegar & use a tasty bonding agent like mustard.

2 generously apply rub and inject with flavor.

3 choose good wood, make a fire, keep it steady at 250°F.

4 let finished meat rest, slice and sauce.

ANCHO CHILE-RUBBED SMOKED PORK SHOULDER

1 Whole Pork Shoulder
1/2 cup Ancho Chile Barbeque Rub
2 cups white vinegar
1/2 cup yellow mustard
8 cups apple or cherry wood chips soaked in water

Ancho Chile Smoking Spritzer

2 cups apple juice
1 cup cranberry juice
1 cup canola oil
2 tbsp red hot pepper sauce
1/2 cup Ancho Chile Rub

Reg. $110.00 | Now $59.99

1. Score the top fat so it'll melt into the pork while smoking. Rub with vinegar then rinse with water. Pat dry with paper towels.
2. Rub with 1/2 cup of yellow mustard then 1/2 cup of Ancho Chile Rub.
3. Combine & mix Spritzer ingredients. Inject pork with 10-12 oz. of spritzer.
4. Set up smoker with 1 chimney of unlit lump charcoal and 2 chimneys of lit lump charcoal. Adjust vents until temperature is 225°F - 250°F.
5. Start shoulder fat side up and add plenty of wood chips. Every 1/2 hour, add more wood chips and spritz.
6. After 2 hours, insert thermometer probes, not letting it touch bone.
7. After 5 hours, place in foil pan and coat with spritzer. Wrap pan with foil.
8. Continue cooking without adding wood chips or opening smoker until thermometer hits 190°F for sliced and 200°F for pulled - 8-10 hours total. Let rest 1 hour before serving.

3 LAYERS OF FLAVOR COMPLEXITY

the groundwork
KILLER CRUST

Whole wheat, the perfect texture. Just crispy and chewy enough for an ideal bite every time.

the heart of it
FRESH INGREDIENTS

Premium meats, artisan cheeses, and cut veggies and herbs...fresh, caramelized, or roasted for big flavor.

finishing touch
UNIQUE SAUCES

No "red sauce" here. Our chef-inspired flavor-enhancers bring everything together.

NEW! Beef Jerky & Hunter's Sausages

Powerful protein in the palm of your hand.

- PREMIUM MEATS
 - HICKORY SMOKED
 - GOOD SOURCE OF PROTEIN
 - GLUTEN FREE*
 - LOW CALORIE
 - NO NITRITES ADDED
- * Except Teriyaki Beef Jerky & BBQ Hunter's Sausage

WHAT MAKES OURS BETTER?

REAL HICKORY SMOKE

No liquid smoke here – these snacks don't need it. After marinating and seasoning, they're hung on great big screens over smoldering hickory wood for a painstakingly slow 8 hours. One bite and you'll never consider "fake smoked" protein snacks again.

WHAT'S IN AND WHAT'S OUT

Premium eye of round beef - not random scraps, not mystery cuts...the good stuff. And only the best cuts of premium pork. Each piece of jerky and hunter's sausage is naturally cured (with food ingredients, not sodium nitrite) and then marinated to perfection.
